Library staff members have been working hard since last spring to improve your experience searching for library materials. I am delighted to announce that QuickSearch is here!

Why should you use QuickSearch?

- Speed: QuickSearch is the fastest software we have ever offered.
- Coverage: QuickSearch returns relevant articles along with books and media.
- Power: QuickSearch includes tools to refine search results according to your needs.
- Flexibility: QuickSearch exports citations to popular bibliographic utilities.

This makes QuickSearch the perfect way to begin gathering sources on any research topic. To start exploring now click here: QuickSearch

Please note that QuickSearch does not retrieve articles from every library database. Articles in QuickSearch results come from JStor, Science Direct, ProQuest Central, Academic Search Premier, Business Source Complete, Communication and Mass Media Complete, PsycArticles, SportDiscus with Full Text, Education Research Complete, SocIndex with Full Text, Art Full Text and the New York Times Historical database. This represents a good cross-section of subscribed article databases. However, QuickSearch does not include articles in specialized subject databases. Please consult the Library Guide relating to your subject or department for more information about specialized databases.

Please bring your questions! Stop by the Reference Desk, call us at 914-323-5282, or text your question to 914-288-6288.
Collections Corner:
Library Uses “Groupon” to Add New Materials

Well, not exactly. Our library belongs to a consortium of academic libraries around the area. One benefit of belonging is that pricing for content is negotiated centrally. This permits us to leverage our collective strength to get sizable discounts. Budgets are tight everywhere and content providers know this. Offering a very good deal to the consortium libraries is better than no business at all. Much like the idea behind Groupon and Living Social, buying in bulk keeps our content current, keeps the lines of communication open between libraries, and makes our budget dollars go further. Here are some examples of new content purchased in this way:

The New Yorker Digital Archive – 1925 to present, full digital reproduction of the magazine, including ads and cartoons.

JSTOR eBook Collection – new, scholarly books, discoverable in our databases and our catalog.

Irish Newspaper Archive -- digital collection of more than 30 Irish papers from the 17th century to present.

Please have a look at these and our other databases and eBook collections.

Special Events and Exhibits

Midday Music
Friday 1:00 - 1:30 p.m.

September 26th
October 17th & 31st
November 14th

Fall Fest’Ville Special Collections Open House - October 25, 2014

Join us in the Library Rare Book Room to view and interact with a selection of our historical treasures. Guests will be able to photograph and page through many of the items.

Highlights will include:

• Selections from our Rare Book Collection including Illuminated Manuscripts from the 15th and 16th Centuries, rare first editions and books signed by the authors.
• Selections from our archives will include student artifacts spanning the 19th and 20th Centuries.

To learn more please contact Archivist and Special Collections Librarian Lauren Ziarko at Lauren.Ziarko@mville.edu or 914-323-5422.

Special Collections Exhibit: “Back to School: Textbooks Through Time” (Quiet Room)
SEPTEMBER 17
7:00 P.M.
Graffiti Reading

SEPTEMBER 23
7:00 P.M.
“A Reading from Inheritance”
Poetry Reading/Book Signing
Joseph Fasano M.F.A.
Adjunct Professor, English

OCTOBER 1
4:30 P.M.
“How Does the U.S. Economy Influence the Developing World?”
Robert Derrell, Ph.D.
Associate Professor, Economics, Finance & Management

OCTOBER 2
7:00 P.M.
“Weep Not, Child”
Faculty Forum

OCTOBER 15
4:30 P.M.
“The Nature of Truth and Certainty in Mathematics”
Paul Ellis, Ph.D.
Assistant Professor, Mathematics

OCTOBER 29
7:00 P.M.
Undergraduate Creative Writing Faculty Reading Event
Jeff Bens, M.F.A.
Director, Undergraduate Creative Writing Program

NOVEMBER 12
4:30 P.M.
“Online Breakthroughs: Bridging Pages and Keystrokes to Foster Identities”
Victoria Fantozzi, Ph.D.
Chair, Curriculum And Instruction, Education
Katherine Cunningham, Ed.D.
Assistant Professor, Education

NOVEMBER 19
4:30 P.M.
“Special Education: Mindfulness. What is it - and How Does it Apply to Teaching Practices?”
Mikki Malow, Ph.D.
Assistant Professor, Education
Library Organization - The library has undergone some organizational changes this summer. Here is a handy list of library departments and staff.

Administration
- Jeff Rosedale – Library Director
- Elaine Provenzano – Assessment and Marketing Librarian

Collections and Technical Services
- Mary-Elizabeth Schaub – Head, Collections and Technical Services
- Susan Majdak – Interlibrary Loan and Acquisitions Manager
- Catherine Medeot – Collections Librarian
- Christina Ostroff DiCarro – Systems Librarian
- Anthony Taylor - Collections and Stacks Manager
- Lauren Ziarko – Archivist and Special Collections Librarian

Instruction
- Paula Moskowitz – Head, Library Instruction and Special Populations
- Lynda Hanley – Education Specialist Librarian

Patron Services
- Nancy Bobrek – Head, Patron Services
- Kenneth Eilen – Evening Librarian

Library Student Staff - The library would like to welcome new and returning student assistants. We greatly appreciate their contributions in helping the library to run smoothly and provide great service. Thank you for all of your hard work!

Acquisitions: Carina Velazquez

Administration, Assessment, & Marketing: Elene Beridze, Chi Hoang, Vanity Hendricks-Robinson, and Nha Truong

Circulation Desk: Gregg Anthony, Khalea Baker, Elene Beridze, Oscar Brugal-Davila, Nury Charro-Live, Ana Espinal, Camila Flores-Espana, Alexis Garcia, Rita Ibrahimi, Sarah Larson, Abeba Leveille, Elene Lodja, Roselande Louis, Brianne McKissick, Sylvie Ndayisaba, Regina Pires, Briana Nunez, Sean Sampson, Candice Scott-Mason, Elizabeth Toribio, Gabrielle Van Wellie Saint Amand, Devon Washington, and Zane Duzant

Collections: Jeseyna DeLeon, Matthew Goidell, Stephanie Portillo, Regina Pires, Alexis Prendergast, Jelani Price, and Nha Truong

InterLibrary Loans: Jessica Roller

Special Collections: Michael Napolitano

The library would like to express gratitude to Deborah Green for her ten years of service. Deborah left Manhattanville College in July. Deborah was known for delivering library service with a smile. She used her larger-than-life personality to make everyone who walked into the library building feel connected. Perhaps most importantly, she hired and developed some of the best student workers on the Manhattanville College campus. We already miss her.